Cheers to L. G. Everist, Inc.'s 150th and America's 250th Birthday

As America celebrates its 250th anniversary in 2026, we have an opportunity to reflect on the values that have shaped our nation for two and a half centuries such as hard work, determination, innovation, and the belief that strong communities are built through dedication and perseverance. These same principles have allowed countless American businesses to thrive, including L. G. Everist, Inc., which proudly celebrates its 150th anniversary this year.

In 1876, America marked its centennial, the same year L. G. Everist, Inc. was founded and Colorado became a state. Since then, L. G. Everist has grown alongside the nation for the past 150 years. What began as a small coal merchant operation, has evolved into one of the trusted leaders in construction materials and transloading services throughout the Midwest and Mountain regions.

For 150 years, the company has adapted to changing industries, embraced new technologies, and remained committed to delivering quality products while building lasting relationships with customers and the communities we serve.

Both America and L. G. Everist have endured challenges, celebrated achievements, and continued to move forward through resilience and a commitment to progress. Neither milestone would have been possible without generations of hardworking individuals who were committed to building something that lasted!

At L. G. Everist, that legacy is carried out every day by dedicated employees whose commitment to safety and operational excellence keeps the company moving forward. Whether producing aggregates, delivering construction materials, or providing transloading services, each team member plays a vital role in building the infrastructure that supports America's continued growth.

As we celebrate America's 250th birthday and L. G. Everist's 150 years of service, we also look toward the future. While honoring the accomplishments of those who came before us, we remain committed to innovation, responsible management, and investing in the next generation of employees and leaders. We are proud of our history, grateful to those who made it possible, and excited to continue building the future for another 150 years!
